

THURSDAY, MARCH 2, 1882.

LOCAL ITEMS.

WOOD! WOOD!!—Subscribers who have agreed to bring us wood for the Press, will please deliver it. We did not wait for bad weather to make this call, but have notified parties occasionally, during the fall and winter. A few have responded.

—March came in weeping.
—Wild plums are blossoming.
—Yesterday, Wednesday, was Embury.

—Ye local, of the Sentinel, rejoice. It is a fine boy.
—Full Moon next Saturday, at 7 o'clock 18 minutes in the morning.

—One sport for the boys now is flying kites. Another is playing base-ball.
—The road leading to the Salem Mill, known as the "Mill Lane," has been repaired.

—A few copies of Tourge's new paper at the Salem Book Store. 35,000 sold in Philadelphia.

—The fruit trees, we fear, are budding too soon this spring. We notice some peach trees almost in bloom.

—Some of the young men in town have formed an orchestra, and have secured Prof. A. Minung as teacher.

—Miss Jessie Winkler, one of Salem's talented young ladies, has gone to Davidson County to take charge of a school. Success to her.

—Henry Hege, son of A. C. Hege, of Lexington, had his head and face badly burnt with powder, while out hunting the other day.

—Work in the gardens is now carried on in earnest, and many persons are planting potatoes, peas, onions and other early vegetables.

—We learn that a little girl, daughter of a woman named Brown, living near Teague Town, fell in the fire the other day and was burned to death.

—Humpty Dumpty last Friday night did not draw near as good a house as H. Adams' troupe did, nor was the performance as good.

—English sparrows are becoming numerous about town. They roost of nights under the eaves of houses, perching themselves on the gutter stays.

—The rope walking and fire-works at Winston last Friday night, drew a larger crowd than Humpty Dumpty did. Free shows always do.

—Wachovia Cornet Concert Club played some of their choice airs on the streets in this place and Winston, on Wednesday night of last week, in honor of Washington's birthday.

—Spirit rappings or table turnings now help to while away the evenings with some. There is lots of innocent fun derived from it, and the way the girls consult the table about their beaux is amusing.

—A young lady in the Greensboro Female College plays music that kills mice. —Charlotte Observer.

—Probably she sometimes plays on an accordion. The best of music on that instrument is enough to kill most anything.

—A sixteen pound wild turkey was sold in town one day last week. It was killed, we believe, by Mr. Heister, a young man of this county, with only one arm, who never fails to bring ready game he points his trusty rifle at.

—We learn that on last Saturday a horse at one of the livery stables in Winston got frightened at something, and rearing up fell over striking J. G. Veach, on one of his ankles causing a very painful fracture.

—There are 20,000 seeds of oats in a pound, and 686,400 seeds of white clover. —Exchange.

—Now if some one will count the number of tobacco seeds it takes to weigh a pound we will add it to the above paragraph.

—The lung music made by Dermot Butler is the best of the kind we ever heard. He plays with perfect ease any air, and so much does it sound like instrumental music, that one would suppose an instrument was used in producing it, but his lungs are all he uses.

—A man living five miles in the country walked to Winston last Friday evening to see the Humpty Dumpty man walk the rope. He reached the place of performance five minutes too late, and on being told that the performance was over, remarked: "Just my dratted luck." Then turning "about face" he marched off home again.

—Jerry Blum, (col.), some time ago received instructions from a person living in the Eastern part of this State, to get up a model for a potato peeler. Jerry put his inventive powers to work, and he now informs us that he has accomplished the task set him, and a model for a No. 1 potato peeler is the result.

—The patriotism of the little boys in Waughton became aroused on Washington's birthday and they celebrated it at night by having a torch light procession, firing off sky-rockets, &c. We learn that this was the first celebration ever gotten up in that ancient village in honor of the natal day of the father of his country. The boys enjoyed themselves finely, and the best of order prevailed.

—While passing through our beautiful cemetery on last Sunday afternoon we came to a beautiful marble altar resting on pillars, erected by Jas. A. Robinson, of the Leader, to mark the last resting place of his two lovely children, whose departure was yet fresh in the minds of our community. Near by, we noticed a handsome upright monumental slab, of fine white marble, beautifully inscribed, placed there to point out the last resting place of his beloved wife, who so soon followed her darling little ones to that better land. The workmanship on both is finely executed, and was done by I. W. Durham.

Cotton Seed.

Messrs. F. & H. Fries have received a lot of prime cotton seed for distribution among the farmers.

MINES.—J. A. Hege, of Davidson County, lost 33 chickens on the night of the 21st ult. Lewis Weisner lost 16 on the night of the 22nd ult. One mink was found dead in the yard of Christian Spangh. Altogether, over 175 chickens have been destroyed in that neighborhood. Bays, you can get 50 cents for every mink skin you bring to town.

—"Thank de Lawd I don't owe no man a cent now!" exclaimed an old darkey, in Store's store, Saturday evening, after settling his account. "How 'bout dat quarter you borrowed ob me?" asked an old "auntie" who was standing by. "Git out 'oman, you no man," answered the old darkey; then starting to leave he added, to himself, "golly, 'pears to me dat nigger showed her 'quintessence at de wrong time."

—Signs of Spring are cropping out everywhere. Yesterday ushered in the first Spring month, blustery March. Although the Almanac notes the 21st as commencement of Spring, yet the daily early morning concerts of the sparrow, wren, red bird, blue bird, robin, and the blossoms of the crocus, violet and refreshing verdure of the grass, with the busy hum of the bees among the blooming elms and maples betoken, unmistakably, the approach of this coy season. In some localities peas are up in the gardens and the lettuce beds are ready to be plucked, yet, the chill in the air makes fires comfortable, and indicates that Jack Frost and the Snow King have not left us. The fruit is not safe till May.

—A nut for "Uncle Jake," to crack. Answer to be handed us in time for our next issue:

My first in gate,
But not in late.
My second in turn,
But not in learn.
My third in girl,
But not in curl.
My fourth in town,
But not in gown.
My fifth in eight,
But not in straight.
My sixth in is caught,
But not in bought.
My seventh in is fruit,
But not in shoot.
My eighth in is hinge,
But not in fringe.
My ninth in is turn,
But not in learn.
My tenth in is never
But not in ever.
My eleventh in is guide,
But not in ride.

My whole is something "Uncle Jake" wants. Answer next week.

—We are indebted to a friend for the following items from the upper part of the county, near Five Forks:

Agnes, a little daughter of Joseph H. Reich, climbed upon a table and jumping off sprained one of her ankles so badly that she was unable to walk for over a week.

William Bishop and family and his mother-in-law, Mrs. Mary Butler, will leave this week to try their fortunes somewhere beyond the Blue Ridge.

Chicken Cholera is playing havoc among poultry in some parts of the Five Forks neighborhood. Joseph H. Reich had several fine fowls to die recently.

Prices for grain and all kinds of provisions continue high, but there was quite a fall in soft soap the other day. At least so thinks a certain lady living in the neighborhood of the Forks, who, while passing through the yard with a vessel of soft soap in her hands stumbled her toe and fell down.

Mr. Tate Bennett and Miss Martha Burroughs, both of Stokes County, were married recently, by Rev. Mr. Heister.

An infant daughter of Mr. Spainbour, of Mt. Pleasant, died recently.

—A list of letters remaining in the Post Office at Salem, N. C., March 1st, 1882:

H. W. SHORE, P. M.

FOR THE PRESS.

In relation to what was said by "S. A. H." in last week's issue of the Press, I will say that I did not give him or any other person, the authority to speak of me or my school in that manner.—"Come out young gentlemen and maidens and have your fun,"—or, in other words, a frolic. I have given no general invitation, and do not expect to.

I will give Saturday, March 4th, 1882, as a day of modest and sociable amusement for the benefit of my scholars. And those of our friends who wish to join us are welcome to do so; but do not think I will have a regular spree, as S. A. H. will have it.

I hope S. A. H. will leave me out of his communications. J. S. Sides.

FEES AND DOCTORS.

The fees of doctors is an item that very many persons are interested in just at present. We believe the schedule for visits is $3.00 which would tax a man confined to his bed for a year, and in need of daily visits, over $1,000 a year for medical attendance alone!

And one single bottle of Hop Bitters taken in time would save the $1,000 and all the year's sickness.—Post.

[PRESS CORRESPONDENCE.]

There was more than the usual amount of timber died in the woods last summer.

Pearson Bodenhamer has bought Lum Hite's merchandise, rented his store and is selling goods for himself.

Onion sets and Irish potatoes are scarce this spring.

Anthony Olweski tells that corn sells for $1 per bushel in Surry county, and that people can get plenty of work at good wages, so that times are not as hard in the mountains as some reports say.

Judging from the number of worthless hounds throughout the country, eggs will be high all this summer, and sheep's lives in much danger.

We hear that Abbott's Creek township will have a new stock law election. The previous election was not lawfully advertised, it is said.

Pearson Bodenhamer says that he went up in the mountains, bought a load of butter, chestnuts and apples and took it South, sold it and made a clear profit of $74 in 24 days.

We hear that C. A. Hege of Salem and others are building a steam saw mill in Davidson County, near Midway.

A darkey driving a team from Salem towards Clemmonsville, stuck fast in the mud and one horse could not get out that night. When help went the next morning the horse was dead.

Some farmers have commenced sowing oats. H. L. B.

State Items.

—We learn that the Richmond & Danville Railroad Company have just ordered 400 box cars and 45 engines for use on their line in this State and Virginia.—Bugle.

—Patents have been granted as follows: Ebenezer N. Hutchinson, Charlotte, N. C., brick kiln; Thomas J. Keron, of Salisbury, N. C., washing machine; McD Pate, of S. O. Mason and W. H. Dail, South Hill, N. C., cultivator.

—Last night about eight o'clock, Jas. Woods, painter from Richmond, Va., was clubbed with a slingshot, or some heavy article, knocked down on Davis street, near the depot, by Ike McAdoo, a colored man, who was carrying a watch and some six or eight dollars in money. He says there were two negroes; but the police have failed to discover the other party. The pistol was found upon McAdoo, and he was given before Mayor Eckel, and in default of bail was lodged in jail.—Bugle.

—Greenboro Bugle: The colored citizens of the State will hold a convention at Goldsboro, on Wednesday, Mar. 20, "to take such steps as may be deemed expedient for the purpose of securing redress and infringement upon our rights guaranteed by the constitution of the United States and North Carolina," say they. The convention is to be held at Goldsboro, and will be presided over by C. H. Moore, of Guilford. The chief point of grievance seems to be alleged injustice as to the privilege of the jury-box.
